Office of the President

Dear Graduates:

Access, quality and diversity are hallmarks of public higher education. Each is essential if the Commonwealth is to meet the needs of all of its citizens. As the third graduating class of the 90's, you will be called upon to deal with significant changes that will impact on public education. Your investment of time, effort and sacrifice at Westfield State College was a commitment to educational excellence. I hope you will work with us to maintain that excellence for future generations. I challenge you to take a leadership role in shaping our future educational environment.

I'm very pleased that you chose to pursue your higher educational goals at Westfield State College. We have attempted to create an academic culture which enabled you to acquire the knowledge and skills to lead a fulfilling life in the most rapidly changing period in the history of humankind. I hope our culture has promoted your development intellectually, culturally and socially; empowering each of you to reach your full potential.

I hope you will fondly remember your days at Westfield State College, and I encourage you to remain active with the College by participating in our Alumni Association. We need your time and experience to build an even better College for future students.

Sincerely,

Ronald L. Applbaum
President

Quality public education since 1839

ear Fellow Classmates,

Now that our years at Westfield State are behind us, look back and reflect upon all the happy and joyous times that we had. ever let these memories fade because they should be remembered and treasured forever. At the same time, look ahead to the ture. As we enter the workforce in these tough economic times, remember what your career goal is and strive for it. We ouldn't settle for second best because we are better than that. Whichever direction you choose in life, I wish the best to all of ou. Good Luck!

WHAT'S THE SCORE?

LOOK BACK

stfield State College's 15-team varsity athletics program completed one of its most successful seasons in recent years. stfield State won five championships in the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference and finished second out he eight state colleges in the final Smith Cup standings.

e Owls also excelled regionally, as the two basketball teams participated in the ECAC playoffs, while several other ms placed high in the New England championships.

ny individual honors were also attained. There were four All Americans, 22 All New England and 50 all-conference formers.

proximately one-third (72) of Westfield State's varsity athletes achieved a grade point average of 3.0 or better during fall 1991 semester, and 76 had a 3.0 or better during the spring 1992 semester. Field hockey/softball standout ather Cabral was selected the Massachusetts State Conference Female Scholar/Athlete of the Year, and All New gland basketball player Ellen Carey was named to the district academic first team. In addition, the women's mming and diving team received national recognition for its high grade point average for the second consecutive r.

stfield State College's intramurals program had another successful year with a high participation rate. Both the amural and intercollegiate programs look to become stronger with the installation of the new Astro Turf and weather track. The major changes along with continual improvements to the baseball and softball fields give stfield one of the finest outdoor athletic complexes in the state college system.
